AUTOMATION & CONTROLS

AUTOMATION & CONTROLS

Automation & Controls of some sort is becoming more popular, and almost a basic requirement for any residential or commercial project. Recognizing its importance, Huda Lighting partnered with several leading brands in the field to bring the latest automation solutions to its clients.

In almost every one of its branches, Huda Lighting has a team specialized in automation and lighting controls. Huda Lighting is also a KNX partner, with KNX certified engineers in several of its branches, capable of designing and commissioning any KNX system. This allows it to offer support and services to projects from the design stage, all the way to installation and commissioning. Designs proposed are based on client's requirements and the experience of its qualified engineers. Installation is carried out by in-house electricians, or by out-sourced system integrators, to ensure all systems are installed according to standards. In the final stage of commissioning, the aim is to assure that all systems and components are tested, operated and maintained according to the operational requirements of the home owner, and to their full satisfaction.
